Dear Colleagues

We are proud to unveil our new visual identity and plans for 2019. Over last few months we were extensively working on the new BRCGS brand.

Our new logo and visual identity was revealed during the GFSI conference in Nice on 25th February. It was well received and we had very positive feedback.

Don't forget we are now known as BRCGS.

“Our new visual identity is much more than a new logo” Mark Proctor, Chief Executive, BRCGS

START! - This programme is developed to enable audits and certification against two levels of requirements: basic and intermediate which will provide recognised stepping stones towards eventual certification to the full Standard (if required) along with providing a development platform for new and existing auditors. Listen to our webinar explaining the START! programme. There is also detailed information on our website.

BRCGS published the new compliance report for 2019. You can read the full report here.

The compliance activities programme is designed to ensure brand protection. We always welcome your feedback and input into the direction of the compliance activities which can be sent to karen.betts@brcgs.com

We are very pleased to announce the appointment of Anthony Lidong Liang as our new Chief Representative in Greater China. As an IPC registered Lead Auditor, Anthony has experience of auditing in quality management systems and food safety management systems, including BRCGS, IFS, MSC, FSMS and GlobalGAP etc. He is also Intertek approved and registered tutor and the only BRCGS Principal Trainer for the Global Standard Food in China.

First APAC international advisory board has been introduced.

This group represents a significant part of the supply chain in the region and we have the chance to share our ideas on how we want to improve brand confidence, whilst learning about all the different market dynamics that makes this part of the world so diverse and interesting. Members include Walmart, Subway, Woolworths, CP Group, McDonald's, McCormick amongst others.

BRCGS Professional

We're pleased to announce that we've recently had our 50th graduate complete the BRCGS Professional programme. Marisol Hernández Martínez from Alpura in Mexico achieved this milestone. It's encouraging to see so many individuals across the world dedicated to their professional development and pursuing this global recognition. We now have graduates from nine countries and individuals in progress from 195 countries. To find out how you can get involved, please visit our website or email professional@brcgs.com.

This year the BRCGS Academy is running Food Safety Issue 7 to 8 conversion courses in English and Spanish, and Industry Training for Issue 3 of the Gluten-Free Certification Program alongside the event, so there's plenty of opportunities to extend your learning.

Food Safety Europe returned to London on 12 February 2019.

We were joined by delegates from across the food industry to hear engaging presentations from our speakers.
