Julia L. Ferrell

Director of Food Security and Regulatory Compliance Bay State Milling Company

Julia is the Director of Food Security and Regulatory Compliance with Bay State Milling Company headquartered in Quincy, Massachusetts.

Julia is a leader within her organization with food safety including BRCGS certification, export regulations, FSMA compliance, and state and federal regulatory expectations. Much of her work focuses on helping the company prepare proactive policies, procedures, training and education to prevent food safety incidents through creating a behavioral-based food safety culture.

Julia graduated from the University of Green Bay Wisconsin with her undergraduate in Nutritional Science, minor Chemistry in 1996, and Associates in Culinary Arts in 1993, and received her Masters of Project Management through Keller Graduate School in 2013.

In her spare time Julia enjoys gardening and cooking.
