Brand Guidelines – Use of the BRCGS Professional Logo

Completing the BRCGS Professional programme is something to be proud of. This document explains how individuals that have completed and graduated from the programme may use the BRCGS Professional logo (the “logo”) to promote their achievement.

Use of the logo must comply with the terms and conditions in this guideline to protect its position in the global marketplace and maintain a strong visual identity through correct and consistent application.

Who can use the logo?

The logo included in this guideline is for use only by individuals that have completed and graduated from the BRCGS Professional programme and have been awarded a certificate of completion.

The logo may also be used by BRCGS training partners that are approved to deliver courses which are part of the BRCGS Professional programme. In this situation, the logo may only be used to promote these specific courses.

Form and display of the logo

- The logo shall be displayed only in the appropriate form, size and colour and in full compliance with the conditions set out hereunder.
- The logo is available in colour or monochrome.
 - The logo must be used in its original form, with no alterations to design or colour scheme.
- Where possible the logo should be used in its colour form.
 - The Pantone colours are the primary colour references for the logo. Equivalent CMYK, RGB and HEX values are also provided for other applications.

Logo and positioning

This is the principal logo. This is the only colour to be used except when used in monochrome. The colour should not be reversed, the text for the name of the logo is to be white reversed out of the colour. Please follow the colour breakdowns if using four-colour process printing.

The logo may be positioned anywhere on the page as considered appropriate. When using the logo, it's important to leave enough clear space or an exclusion zone around it to prevent interference from other elements.

Clear space

The clear space zone ensures the legibility and impact of the logo by isolating it from competing visual elements such as text or supporting graphics.

Aim to maintain minimum clear space around the logo equal to 1/3 of the cap height, illustrated below.

Application

- Use of the logo is to demonstrate that an individual has completed the BRCGS Professional programme so it can only be used on an individual's personal stationary. It may not be used in any marketing or communication tools that may be misleading or imply a company has completed the programme. Personal stationary includes printed and digital materials, including but not limited to, business cards, email signatures, biographies and social media profiles.

BRCGS Approved Training Partners may use the logo across printed and digital marketing materials to promote any course that is part of the BRCGS Professional programme. This includes, but is not limited to, websites, flyers, brochures, catalogues and social media. When used in this capacity, the trade or company name must appear on any communication materials where the logo is used. Wherever the logo is used you must indicate that it is a trademark belonging to BRCGS, which is being used under licence.
- You may not combine the logo with any other object, including but not limited to, other logos, icons, words, graphics, photos, slogans, numbers, symbols, design features or website audio files. Further, you cannot use the logo with any other trademark (including your company name) unless it is sufficiently distinguished from the surrounding and adjacent text.

The logo must not be stretched or compressed horizontally or vertically or distorted in any way.

The logo should appear only once in any given document, should not be used as a design feature on any of your communication materials and you should not use a copy of the logo that has been scanned at low resolution.

Requirements for correct use of the logo

- The logo is not permitted for use by any business or individual that is not approved by BRCGS.
 - The logo may not be used in any manner that is derogatory to BRCGS, its products and services, or in a way that would negatively impact the reputation of BRCGS.
 - You shall not attempt to register the BRCGS Professional logo, or any mark that is confusingly similar or imitating it, as a trademark anywhere in the world.
- No ownership rights are transferred to BRCGS Professionals or training partners through use of the logo. Any BRCGS mark and associated branding remain the intellectual property of BRCGS.
 - The logo should only be used by the individual or business to which the approval applies.
 - BRCGS Professionals should notify BRCGS if they become aware of any unauthorised use of the logo or any mark confusingly similar to, or imitating it.

Suspension or withdrawal

If BRCGS Professional status is not maintained, or a training partner ceases to be approved by BRCGS for any reason, you must stop using the logo and remove it along with any claims of approved status from all materials.

Misuse of the logo

Any instances where the BRCGS Professional logo is found to not adhere to this guideline should be reported to BRCGS through TellBRCGS.

Use of the logo outside the permitted conditions is unauthorised and may result in BRCGS requiring the use to cease or taking action under its applicable contractual or legal rights.

Guideline updates

BRCGS may periodically review and update the guidelines for use of the BRCGS Professional logo. Users must ensure they are referring to the latest published version.
